

home • artnews • news

ARTnews in Brief: Museu de Arte de São Paulo Assis Chateaubriand Appoints Adjunct Curator of Fashion—and More from May 7, 2021

BY

Alex Greenberger, Claire Selvin, Tessa Solomon
May 3, 2021 4:42pm

Hanayrá Negreiros.
LENO TABORDA

Friday, May 7

Museu de Arte de São Paulo Assis Chateaubriand Appoints Adjunct Curator of Fashion

Hanayrá Negreiros has been named adjunct curator of fashion at the Museu de Arte de São Paulo Assis Chateaubriand, where she will lead MASP Renner, a project that brings together artists and fashion designers in Brazil to create clothes for the institution's collection. Negreiros specializes in African and Afro-diasporic art and aesthetics as they relate to modes of dressing. Adriano Pedrosa, artistic director of MASP, said in a statement, "Negreiros is an extraordinary thinker with a keen interest on Black culture, connecting art and fashion in a unique and novel way."

Sonsbeek Quadrennial Exhibition Gets Opening Dates

The recurring Dutch exhibition Sonsbeek, branded as "sonsbeek20→24" for this iteration, will run in Arnhem, the Netherlands from July 2 to August 30. The hotly anticipated exhibition, which includes work by Ellen Gallagher, Ibrahim Mahama, Oscar Murillo, Olu Oguibe, and others, was postponed from last summer because of the pandemic. Titled "force times distance — on labour and its sonic ecologies," it is organized by artistic director Bonaventure Soh Bejeng Ndikung, with Antonia Alampi, Amal Alhaag, Zippora Elders, and Aude Christel Mgba.

[Read a profile on curator Bonaventure Soh Bejeng Ndikung. (https://www.artnews.com/art-news/news/bonaventure-soh-bejeng-ndikung-curator-profile-1234578909/)]